Security Takes Center Stage at Historic Broadway Center

Performing arts centers and small to large venue theaters have inherent challenges that go far beyond hosting the live performances we love to attend. Behind the scenes are concessions to manage, archival records to protect, expensive A/V and stage equipment to secure, equipment rentals to track, and classrooms and rehearsal halls to oversee. Art association groups, employees, and volunteers are coming and going 24 hours a day.

Broadway Center for the Performing Arts in Tacoma, Washington, tackled these challenges and more when they decided to bring every area of their operations including their old historic theaters under one access management system.
